Headteacher: David Conway MA MBA

25 February 2019

Dear Parents/Carers

I write to inform you of an exciting opportunity that has been arranged for the Year 10 Child Development classes.

On Friday 22 March 2019, Claire Hooks, Senior Lecturer for Midwifery at Anglia Ruskin University, and her colleague Martina Donaghy, will deliver a session looking at foetal development, labour and delivery, and the role of the midwife. These areas form a key part of the Child Development course and this will provide students with the chance to hear real life experiences from professionals that work in this sector.

The session will last for two hours, during Periods 3 and 4.

Should you have any queries, please do contact me michelle.robbs@notleyhigh.com

Yours faithfully

Mrs M Robb
Child Development Teacher
